

Mother's Day Butterfly Craft

Cut out each of the butterflies from the template and then cut out the message you want to use from the template.

Fold both of the butterflies wings in half along the dashed lined in the center of the template. Use markers to decorate the outside and inside of the wings.

Add glue on the back of the Mother's Day message you want to use and glue it at the bottom of a piece of construction paper or any paper you want to use. Add glue to one side of the butterfly wings and glue them onto your paper.

To make the body of the butterfly you can use a marker and make five circles, if you have some acrylic paint you can dip your fingers into the paint and press it onto your paper directly under the butterfly wings.

With a thin blue marker or blue pen you can draw small dashed lines from the end of each butterfly body to each side of your paper.

Glue a small googly eye on each of your butterflies or use a marker to make an eye. Then use a marker to draw antennae on the Mother butterfly and baby butterfly.

Allow the paint to dry completely before handling the craft. When the paint has dried, give your colorful Mother's Day butterfly craft to your Mom, Grandma or loved one for a sweet Mother's Day gift.